

See Possibility Of Prince Becoming King Of Greece

Marriage of Prince George of England and Princess Marina, of Greece, is seen as a possible preliminary to restoration of Greek monarchy with George as king. If ex-Premier Venizelos, famed king-maker and unnumber of Greece, will have a lot to say about it. The prince and princess, the royal palace in Athens, and Venizelos (below), are shown.

PROMISE AID FOR DISABLED WAR VETERANS

Immediate Action for Hospitalization Will be Taken

Immediate action for the hospitalization of Imperial veterans suffering from war disabilities was promised by Sir George Grey, secretary to the Ministry of Pensions, to a delegation of Imperial veterans who waited on him Thursday evening in Ottawa.

It was brought to his attention that considerable delay occurred in the recognition of necessity for hospitalization in many cases, and that great hardships followed, resulting in many cases, in permanent disablement of the veteran.

Sir George intimated that if officials of a responsible soldier body in Canada submitted claims with proof that hospitalization was necessary, immediate orders would be issued by the ministry's representative in Canada for the service.

APPLY FOR PENSION

The question of British pensioners who had consumed their pensions and were now, owing to economic conditions, destitute, was also discussed. The delegation was informed that all such cases should make application for pension, submitting proof that disability was the same or worse, than when the pension was consumed.

CENTRAL BANK ORGANIZATION SPEEDED UP

Ottawa Expects Institution To Open Up Early in New Year

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—A speeding up of organization will, it is expected, follow the appointment of a governor for Canada's new central bank. Thursday the Dominion government set at double its rate as to whether or not a Canadian would be selected for this high post with the announcement that Graham Ford Towers, assistant general manager of the Royal Bank of Canada, had been appointed. He will shortly celebrate his 57th birthday.

The news that the Democratic voters of California had committed their party to the EPIC plan caused a sensation throughout the country. It resulted in wide discussion of the plan in the magazines, and the formation of an EPIC Committee in California. A statement by the Democratic Party for Governor was signed by a hundred leading writers, and college groups were formed everywhere throughout the country to support the plan for their cities and states. A group of forward-looking economists endorsed the plan, and letters of support were received from a score of United States senators and some fifty congressmen. The book, "Upton Sinclair Presents William Fox," had been sent by the author to every United States senator and congressman, on account of the book's revelation of the higher price of Wall Street.

MORE PURGE' HITLER AIMS

NURNBERG, Sept. 7.—"Purging of the Nazi party and its different organizations" today was announced by Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler at the Nazi congress here as the major task before Nazidom. In a lengthy proclamation Hitler pointed out the "storm troops" had already purged a large number of members. Before the "troops" of June 30, he declared, there were 250,000 storm troops. Today the membership did not exceed 700,000 men. The storm troops were not only purged, but picked and undesirable removed from the ranks. The "Reichsfuehrer" announced the "purging" of the storm troops would continue during the next two months.

British Labor For Socializing Steel Trades

WEYMOUTH, Eng., Sept. 7.—The Union Congress today unanimously adopted a report approving a scheme for the socialization of the iron and steel industry. By this plan, an Act of parliament would set up an independent corporation to take over all enterprises manufacturing iron and steel products from pigiron to finished articles.

Demoted Razor Welder Sought

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—Police today intensified their hunt for a man who has slashed with a razor seven women, inflicting injuries on several. They expressed the opinion that the man was a "hold-out" and would not be taken into custody unless he was offered a deal. One woman in a crowded department store was slashed on the face when she escaped after cutting her dress. Subsequently she slashed three other women in the same store.

A GOSPEL OF DEATH

An Editorial

MR. E. W. BEATTY, K.C., president of the Canadian Pacific Railway company, made a public speech at Vancouver last Tuesday in which he advocated the unification, for administration purposes, of the Canadian National and C. P. R. systems. It was a very able argument, showing that by curtailing services, dismissing all superfluous employees and reducing the mileage of track, it would be possible to carry on transportation of goods and passengers across Canada at greatly reduced cost to the taxpayer, and without affecting the rights of bondholders to their interest payments.

If Canada was a hopelessly bankrupt and decadent country, with its natural resources depleted and all hope of population increase, there could be no question but that the curtailment of services of both roads under one management would be a necessary policy to adopt.

BUT Canada is not a bankrupt country, with its natural resources depleted and all hope of population gone. It can maintain a population five or ten times its present total, who could consume and sell every grain of wheat its farmers can grow. Its forests and mines are capable of greatly increased production.

WHAT Canada needs is not curtailment of railway services, but national policies that will increase the production and commerce of the nation and attract large numbers of new population. We need a monetary system that will enable the wealth of the country to be monetized without the restriction of the gold standard or the additional "sound money" requirements of its present premier, which make money scarce and dear. We need a publicly-owned and controlled central banking system to make money credit available for the needs and advancement of the nation, instead of for the profits of private credit-mongers. We need a cessation of the policy that makes Canada a Tom Tiddler's ground for a handful of special privileged domestic manufacturers with rights to pillage our own people, and a new policy that will permit fair competition at home, and our trade wars abroad and permit our products to be exchanged on the markets of the world.

If such a change was made, it would not be necessary to junk existing railroad systems or add to the unemployment situation by dismissing 25,000 or more additional railroad employees. It would not even be necessary for the C. P. R. to obtain $80,000,000 of the credit of the people of Canada to enable it to meet its obligations. There would then be such an increase of passenger and freight traffic on the railroads of Canada, that both of the existing transcontinentals would prosper and be enabled to extend their systems and services.

NEW RANSOM THREATS REACH JOHN LABATT

TORONTO, Sept. 7.—The Toronto Daily Star said today it had learned John S. Labatt, wealthy London, Ont. brewer, kidnapped last month, had received new threats from ransom kidnapers. "There is a big offer of $100,000 for his release," it said. "He is to be paid $100,000 for his release."

The newspaper said the threats had been made in letters sent by the same person who sent the original ransom notes to Labatt's family while he was being held prisoner, supposedly near Bracebridge in the Muskoka district.

The note, the Star said, demanded payment of the money and accused Labatt of having broken his "molester promise made over a meal."

SHRIKE FEARS GROWN EAST

MONTREAL, Sept. 7.—Striking factory workers tonight predicted a general strike in the industrial belt for one working day. The union leaders said the strike probably be called for a single day, at the end of which the workers who shops which had reached agreement would return to work. Employers of "hold-out" establishments would remain on strike. The strike would probably be made, however.

At the same time matters in the three-day strike in the industrial belt last night included amicable settlement would probably be made, however.

British Seniors Retain Golf Cup

Noted Actor's Clothes Lost When Yacht Sinks

NICE, France, Sept. 7.—With the water-cooled story of his life eluted to his bosom, Noel Coward came back to civilization Thursday. All his clothes, except the suit he wore, were in the sea-washed cabin of the yacht, which was on a shoal of Corsica in the Mediterranean. His money was there, too, and he was travelling on funds enabled him by his London bankers. He intends to call "My Life" the manuscript of the book he wrote, and the crew of the yacht, which was owned by an English friend, escaped with slight injury.

CHEAPER FARE FOR SETTLERS IS SUGGESTED

British Emigration Committee Needs For $50 Rate

LONDON, Sept. 7.—To Canada for ten pounds—or $50—is one of the aims of the committee which has been advising on the question of emigration again. The inter-departmental committee on Empire migration of the British government last night issued a 30-page report of its lengthy investigation. It recommends the restoration "if and when conditions appear to justify such a scheme" of the £10 rate for emigration for British emigrants to Canada. This rate was in force from 1920 to 1931. The committee further recommended extension to include the rail rates in three areas, namely: THREE AREAS £10 to Montreal and east of Montreal; £12 to Winnipeg and west of Winnipeg; £14 to the west of Winnipeg.

WHY BURDEN THE CITIZENS?

When a delegation from the City Council goes to interview the provincial government to request changes in the city charter to relieve the city from the financial burden of the debt during this dear money period of acute deflation, it has a few other items of relief it can properly ask for.

The 1933 balance sheet for the city shows the following items of expenditure:

Mental Defectives $ 4,640.49
Widowed Mothers' Allowances $ 4,640.49
Patients in C. A. Sanatorium $ 4,640.49
Old Age Pensions $ 16,532.72

These make a total of $24,853.19 of expenditure, all unquestionably the obligation of the provincial government. No minister would have the hardihood to suggest that they properly belong to the burdens imposed on the city.

The province which exacts income tax from every citizen earning in excess of $150, and which appropriates to itself all the amusement tax derived from the dramatic and musical patronized by Edmonton citizens, is beyond question, the proper authority to bear the burden of old age pensions, widowed mothers' allowances, patients in the C. A. Sanatorium, and old age pensions.

In addition to this sloughing off its obligations onto the taxpayers of the municipality, the provincial government exacts tax exemptions on millions of dollars worth of property in the city. To cap all it imposes a Supplementary Revenue Tax of two per cent on the assessment of every property, from which it extracts about $65,000 a year.

It is time Edmonton had some doughnuts of civic wealth to defend it from the encroachment of the provincial government, and to see that the provincial government does not unload its obligations on the defenceless citizens of Edmonton.

REAL RECOVERY OR ONLY A RESPIRE?

Employers make reports to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics that the unemployment situation has improved since July 1st than they had three months before.

These figures do not of course represent in any accurate way the actual conditions, but the decrease in unemployment, during the three spring months. To get that information there would have to be added the number taken from employment by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, and there must be deducted the number who for one reason or another lost their jobs.

This information is not so obtainable. But undoubtedly, as the return indicates, the end of the period saw more people drawing wages than were doing so at the beginning, and the figures may not be far from the mark for the net gain in employment. That employment has been increasing in recent months is certain, though the increase is by no means uniform over the country, or over different occupations.

Nor, remembering that this period covered the change from winter to summer conditions, is the gain in any way remarkable. In a country as large as Canada and with a sharply defined winter, the first few months of the summer season might easily absorb 91,700 men and women into industrial employment in the normal course of things.

And the seasonal change is not the only factor in the situation. Four years of suppressed production have resulted in the whittling down of commercial surpluses in many lines of goods. And a real recovery of production in Great Britain has resulted in stimulating sporadic activity in some branches of Canadian industry. Taking these factors into account, a gain of 91,700 persons at work in the reporting industries is neither strange nor phenomenal.

It is none the less welcome, as marking for the first time since the war, the end of a large number of Canadian workers, the end of a period of distress and distress-making, and the return of the regular pay envelope, though the total gain is only on average only a fraction of those of former years.

But, gratifying as this gain is, the other less satisfactory fact is the evidence that the gain has yet been done to make certain that the betterment will be anything other than temporary. It is not an adjustment of money policy or of trade policy to prevent a recurrence of the experiences of the last four years. Lacking these readjustments, we are simply sliding in to regress to the conditions which culminated in the break-down of four years ago. If causes still produce the same effects, and if the same causes, anything, we are bound to expect that six or eight

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

It's very encouraging to mark the improvement in the Hollywood film scene since the advent of the 1933 Hollywood vintage.

One recent afternoon I felt the urge to seek rest and refreshment in a picture show. I hadn't been to the movies for weeks—not since the Mae West wigwags in "I'm No Angel," to which some reference was made in this column.

Like most hard-boiled newspapermen I prefer something rest and simple when I seek entertainment—unless it is something intangibly subtle and deep. We get enough of crime and passion handling copy during working hours without feasting on it in moments of leisure.

The theory that the Tired Business Man is a sort of played-out Sultan who must be revived by rows of nearly-nude females kicking about their heads or indulging in posturing gyrations doesn't apply to newspapermen who work much harder than the average business man.

Although there are four principal downtown picture houses in my town, not one of them carried a title with the word "Sex" in it. This is significant of the new moral trends.

One picture house was showing "Murder in the Private Car." A second one was featuring "Murder on the Blackboard."

The third was exhibiting "Crime on the Hill." The fourth announced Jay Francis in "Mandalay," with pictures of her in front of a temple.

But when I saw the picture of the woman who murdered, I chose the path of least resistance and bought a ticket for "Mandalay."

THE "MENACE" HAS FADED

According to Moscow reports, Russia is willing to join the League of Nations on condition that other European countries agree to establish Locarno pact, guaranteeing Russian territory against invasion, not otherwise.

Russian adherence to the League would be cheap at the price of the fact that the agreement would be all to the good whether Russia joined the League or did not. But the point which will arrest immediate attention is that Russia has made the offer of obtaining such a pact, and is openly asking for it. The self-sufficiency of the Soviet has undergone a steady process of deflation.

In the first blush of success, Soviet leaders proclaimed that they were sponsoring a world revolution, with the up-setting of representative governments everywhere as their sure and certain objective. The shattered Stalin modified that ambitious program to a profession that Russia intended to do nothing more than mind its own business, and to make a fact and an undertaking quite large enough to engage the talents of the Soviet.

Now, with Japan threatening the eastern front, and the British fishing for a general treaty of peace in Europe, which it should and may get. The Red Army is no longer paraded as a menace to the world, but as a force for the good of the world.

Russia is no longer a menace but a neighbor, if the propaganda will allow Europe's hard-pressed nations to recognize the fact.

On This Date

A Day in Canadian History — c — By FRED WILLIAMS

On this date, in 1525 Jacques Cartier and his crew first saw the beautiful island in the St. Lawrence River. Quebec, which we know as the Island of Orleans, it was the first attractive place in this vast region.

It was on this date that the Indians found wine and Donatonea retelling with a long piece of welcome to which Cartier replied. And from that time the Indians have been coming to the Island of Orleans.

So impressed was he with the grapes, and presumably with their taste, that he promptly named the place the "Isle of Bunches of Grapes." CREAMERY MEN HONOR MARKER FOR SERVICES

Former Chief Dairy Commissioner for Province Given Banquet

A life's work well done: "Way back in 1898 a mere youth immigrated from his native Denmark and landed in Canada where he boldly went to work and pitted his skill with thousands of others in an effort to succeed in the new country. Arriving here without any knowledge of the language spoken, the youth found employment in one of the federal government's

Last night this lad was honored. At a banquet tendered him by the creamery operators of Alberta at the Hudsonia, Dr. C. P. Marker, formerly chief dairy commissioner for this province whose superannuation became effective recently, received evidence of esteem that few men in public life can enjoy.

LOUD IN PRAISE
The toastmaster, H. A. Craig, deputy minister of agriculture, was loud in his praise for the sterling qualities which made the former dairy chief a man among men. So, too, were members of the creamery industry, and as a token of their high regard, he was made recipient of a handsomely-framed illuminat-

D. Morkeberg, Red Deer creamery operator, who has known Dr. Marker since he first came to the province as an agent for the Dominion government, made the presentation. Many interesting and amusing sidelights were told by him regarding early dairying activities in the west and the part played by

When creameries were content to use somewhat primitive methods of churning cream and making butter, it was Dr. Marker, whose idealism and far-sightedness forced creamery operators to keep abreast of the times and use up-to-date equipment, he said.

"We can hardly think of the dairy industry as it is today with-

It was he who forced creameries to use the babcock tester. It was he who instituted cream grading. It was he who introduced butter grading and later pasteurization of milk.

It was he who made it possible for Alberta creameries to get into the British Columbia market," Mr. Morkeberg said.

Replying to the remarks made by the speakers, Dr. Marker was visibly affected and gave a heart-felt

"On retiring from my position as dairy commissioner, the feelings uppermost in my mind are gratitude and appreciation," he said.

Other speakers included R. V. Duffy who brought greetings from the Buttermaker's Association; J. R. Sweeney, newly appointed chief dairy commissioner to fill the vacancy caused by Dr. Macken's re-

ACCIDENT IS JURY VERDICT

LONDON, Sept. 7—A verdict of accidental death was returned at the coroner's inquest last night on the death of Flying Officer John

It was testified Bigelow, a member of the 29th squadron of the R.A.F., was engaged in a low-flying "attack" on a mountain farm when

The coroner said that in all probability the Canadian was flying too low, but it was not for him to criticize what might have been

Priskine Expects Good Wheat Crop

PRISKINE, Sept. 7.—Threshing started in the district this week, Mr. Bergman's outfit starting off in the lead. Crops on summer fallow

In spite of frost and hail a good crop is expected. About ten more threshing outfits are ready to start and the work will proceed with speed, threshing lasting about two

One farmer who rents his land is contracted to deliver fourteen hundred bushels of wheat during September at sixty-three cents per bushel. He expects his crop to average twenty-five bushels per acre.

A Jellied Salad With An Improved Flavor

Beating mayonnaise into half-cup gelatin, before adding the other ingredients, is the modern method of making jellied salads. When homemakers first began to use gelatin for salads, they served the results separately, but, thanks to famous dietitians who've learned that the flavor of salad is improved if the combination of ingredients is made in one dish, they now serve it as a single dish.

Beat one cup of mayonnaise into half-cup of gelatin. Add a few fresh fruits to canned left-over chicken, or mix in a fruit-flavored gelatin and you have party refreshments.

Ham luncheon ring is a delicious build supper or luncheon dish made in the new manner. Here is the recipe:

Drain one package of gelatin (aspic flavor) in one cup of boiling water, set in icebox until it begins to thicken. Take out and beat in three-quarters cup of mayonnaise. Then stir in one and one-half cups of cold diced ham, two tablespoons of minced green pepper and two tablespoons of minced dill. Chill until firm and serve in a bed of crisp lettuce or other salad greens.

Add three-quarters cup of water, set in icebox until it begins to thicken. Take out and beat in three-quarters cup of mayonnaise. Then stir in one and one-half cups of cold diced ham, two tablespoons of minced green pepper and two tablespoons of minced dill. Chill until firm and serve in a bed of crisp lettuce or other salad greens.

Chickie's Daughter

By ELENORE MEHRIN

CHAPTER 71

The sun dropped to the far, far West. The western sky looked like a city with flames. Burning spires topped mountains edged with fire ran out to the purple sea.

Pippin kept her eyes riveted on the sparkling color. She held her self intent and watching. In this way she escaped her thoughts. Whenever she relaxed the images she saw were of the past and made a havoc in her heart.

She would see Billy face with the frightened eyes clinging to her lips. She would see the light in his eyes when she stooped to check. "I love you—oh, or she would see him when death returned him to youth, left him lying there, unable to move. No one would think of him. No one would think of him. No one would think of him.

Clearance of Afternoon, Dinner and Dance Frocks

There's Money to be Saved by These Timely Price Reductions — Frocks Smart for Autumn Wear

Talk about a fashion "find." If you're dated for bridges, dinners and Sunday night affairs, this clearance should be a clarion call to an early shopping affray.

Note These Important Features!

1. Slender, youthful lines are accentuated.
2. Woolens favor diagonal, twilled or crepe surfaces.
3. Furs are lavishly used to flatter, as well as to face winter's gales.
4. Comfort is not sacrificed to fashion, though the details are authentically correct.
5. Also available on Deferred Payment Terms.

Necessarily the quantity is limited — phone orders cannot be accepted.

Taffetas... metallic threaded materials... real silk crepes in rough, rich textures... even a velvet or two. Metallic weaves and embroideries... sheers with velvet. Sizes 14 to 44, in the group. Usually $12.95 and $15.95. $7.95 SPECIAL
